New FDC Drainage System

Feeding Dreams Cambodia, a school often affected by flooding, has installed a new drainage system thanks to the support of a generous donor, Kaye Cleave. The school, which had been dealing with flood-related issues for over a decade, sought local builders' advice and installed numerous underground pipes, brick and cement barriers, and used specialized drainage sand and gravel.

The improvements have already proven effective, with no flooding after two heavy rainfalls. This allows the school to focus on its mission of providing free education and meals to the impoverished, without losing time to flood cleanup. A massive shout out to Kaye for your generosity and big heart.

FDC Volunteering Arrivals

This volunteering love will continue as we have 3 very big months ahead of us with several large groups and new volunteers with us from November through into February.

We cannot wait to welcome you all to Feeding Dreams Cambodia.

FDC Group Volunteering

Last month at Feeding Dreams Cambodia, The School of Nursing and Midwifery - Edith Cowan University nursing students visited us and volunteered during the week and also set up a full medical center at Feeding Dreams Cambodia.

As a result of this setup, so many of our kids had medical check-up's and many health issues were treated or addressed for future treatment. Well done to all our Feeding Dreams Cambodia team and Edith Cowan University nursing students and staff for all you achieved – thank you. ❤️

Feeding Dreams Meals Program

Did you know, every month Feeding Dreams Cambodia not only has to prep and cook nearly 15,000 meals each month but also fund this. Providing such a big quantity of meals is a huge financial commitment. We have some very exciting news to share with you next month and this will ensure one of our core programs is able to continue to deliver nutritious meals to the children that we all love and care about so much.
